A DISAPPEARING ISSUE?

A controversy over government health-care benefits for the aged is very much in the news now. But, reports the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, it may disappear as a political issue.

The reason for this is simple—the problem is gradually, even rapidly, being solved without widespread government intervention. By the end of this year 65 per cent of the aged who need and want health insurance will have it, and in five years, according to the projections, the figure will be 80 per cent.

The last Congress turned back the drive to set up compulsory health care benefits for everyone drawing Social Security payments, whether they needed or wanted them or not. Instead, it passed a federal-state measure which is designed to help the aged people who are actually needy. Let's hope future Congresses hold to that wise policy.

DO REPUBLICANS THINK?

In Broward County one republican was elected to county office—the sheriff. Apparent mistakes of enthusiastic republicanism in previous elections were corrected where qualification for public office was the issue. The election was magic. Maybe republicans in Broward County DID think.

In Palm Beach County Florida's largest—and possessing most unused land and water, industry of the lighter and cleaner type is a major target of the thinking public.

It is agreed that capital expenditure of millions and increase in population counted by tens of thousands, by folks whose living expenses are guaranteed, is wanted when moral, mental and physical improvement is the industry. High education is substantial, economically advantageous, morally uplifting and most desirable in any community.

The proposed Boca University has few imaginable prospects of adverse criticism as a community industry.

A major portion of southeast Palm Beach County's substantial citizens WANT the Boca University, and are working hard in most areas to secure it.

There are four men who MUST be for the University, else the request for funds with which to build it would not come from the State.

However, eleven of twelve precincts composed of folks and territory that will benefit most from the University, gave republican candidates a whopping majority.

These four men went down to republican votes unmercifully—Senator Blank, Representatives Roberts and Thomas, AND Governor Bryant, in south P. B. County.

Is this thinking; is this citizenship? It's impolitic to cast a man in your home, criticize the color of his clothing and then ask him for bread, coffee, AND dessert.

We don't think this WAS thinking?

Dear Mister Editor:
 Ever year along about this time, when the weather starts getting cool, I notice the big wedding pictures and stories fall off in the newspapers. All summer long the papers are full of pictures of folks getting married, but I like best of all the wedding pictures and stories. When I was a boy we didn't have all that fuss over a wedding. But there's one thing that ain't changed none, and that's how the wedding comes about.

The first person that knows a feller is going to marry a girl is the girl's mother. Then the girl finds it out, then all their friends begin to guess it. And then the feller himself finds all of a sudden he's engaged. Marriage was taught a young feller a heap of things, like thrift, regular hours, keeping his mouth shut and many other upland habits he wouldn't even need if he stayed single. It can make a rich man pore and a pore man squirm for a long time. Of course, I ain't agin the institution of marriage, I'm just saying that, like them, it can have its drawbacks.

But everybody loves to read about marriages. That's the first thing my old lady looks for in the papers. I saw a piece printed in a magazine not long ago from a Raleigh, North Carolina newspaper in 1881, more's

MR. HALL built his own harvester. (top) An operator and the small machine to the rear will cut strips 12 inches wide and 2 ft. long from an acre (approximately 40,000 ft.) in a day's operation. The strips are gathered and loaded on field wagons (center) and carried to the truck-loading area. There (bottom) a special loader built by Mr. Hall loads 7,500 feet on the trailer in about two hours. Formerly seven men were necessary up to six hours to do the same job.

Sod As Growing Glades

in their special field, SP is the growing school of scientific farmers, the DF is a dirt farmer and the OC is an ordinary cattlemen.

Ordinary cattlemen find it very remunerative at times to sell to a sod dealer certain fields of his St. Austine, Rose Lawn or Bitter Blue. The dealer will mow the grass lawn-style and fertilize it, cut and deliver along with whatever stray weeds, and/or grass mixtures may have been in the pasture.

Other growers may plant and grow for the sod business either of the grasses with careful roguing and elimination of weeds and foreign grasses. This, of course costs more money, as the sod nears the stage of certification.

One authority has said that "factors that would be helpful in so far as grass is concerned, would be" — a grass —

1. Adapted to use and wear.
2. Adapted to shade as well as sun conditions.
3. Tolerant of acid as well as alkaline conditions.
4. Drought resistant and light frost resistant.
5. Distasteful to ALL insects and so tough that no disease will want to attack it.

Florida, and particularly South Florida, cut about 500 per square foot, 30c in Louisville, 25c in Toledo and 20c in Atlanta.

A grass with as much of the resistance as is practicable, especially to cold has been developed in Florida by our U of Fla. known as Floratine, which has a good color and a low percentage of disease and less susceptible to insects, is able to be closely mowed and at the same time produces a solid sod.

This grass is distributed only to sod growers who are certified to insure proper growing and marketing conditions.

The Zoysia, are controlled by certified producers that is certified by the State Plant Board — and insure purchasers

Woodmen Of World

Woodmen of World elected officers for the coming year at a regular meeting of the group held at the Municipal Country Club.

Williams Alston was elected Consul Commander; James Watford, Advisor; L. Grover Royston, Excort; Richard Tillis, Banker; James Snow, Watchman; Bobby Jimerson, Captain, Kyle Henley, Sentry. Auditors elected were Ernest Amodee, William Geckler, and Homer Brooks.

of freedom of foreign grasses, weeds, and a pure strain.

The Emerald Zoysia has been selected as particularly adapted to use in the territory served by Glades producers, because it stands shade, is salt tolerant, makes a dense turf, and is considerably tolerant to cold temperatures.

These grasses are trucked as far north and west as Louisville and Kansas City. Centipede is becoming more popular as a choice with Zoysia, and is usually obtainable in northern markets at about 5c per foot less.

Zoysia delivered into Kansas City sells at about 50c per square foot, 30c in Louisville, 25c in Toledo and 20c in Atlanta.

Hall and Thomas of Lake Harbor are certified sod growers with Zoysia, Floratine and Centipede furnishing more than 2,000,000 square feet per year, to all points in the South.

It is reportedly, reputedly, that there are 101,000 lawns in Florida and an increase of 100 percent is expected in ten years with over 300,000 acres of turf in home lawns, apartments and motels in the state.

Hospital Aux. Names Nominating Group

A nominating committee composed of Mrs. Ted Daniels, Mrs. Chester Cone and Mrs. Ray Kent, Sr., was appointed by President Mrs. E. D. Humphries at the November meeting of the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. A slate of officers for the coming year will be presented at the next meeting on Dec. 13.

Mrs. J. A. Finan, sewing chairman, reported the Jay-Cette sewed for the hospital in September, the WMU in October and the Altar Society in November.

Mrs. I. L. Price was appointed chairman of decorations for the hospital trays at Christmas.

Preceding the business meeting a workshop was held and a quantity of mending and sewing was accomplished and articles prepared for the sterilizer.

Present were Mrs. Irvin Zumpf, Mrs. J. A. Finan, Mrs. I. L. Price, Mrs. C. A. Bailey, Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mrs. Thomas Bregger, Mrs. Bessie Mulberg and Mrs. Humphries.

C Of C Memorialize Late Wm. C. Owen

The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce in a resolution memorializing the late Wm. C. (Bill) Owen says:

"Whereas, Wm. C. Owens, as a designer, builder and administrator of water control facilities, has entwined his profession into the daily well being of citizens of the Glades for nearly a third of a century."

"And Whereas, as a husband, and father, a churchman, a fraternal and civic participant, a builder of things and men, a citizen and indefatigable pioneer, he has left his mark in each segment of endeavor to the betterment of mankind."

"This field was approximately four weeks old the day the picture was taken. The stand indicates the care with which the seed is dropped in the original planting."

The bunk house is roomy, neat and equipped with enough assigned space for each man to have storage room for a large valise and/or trunk (top).

The kitchen is equipped for three hot meals per day, and a steward experienced in preparing the kind of food that appeals to the Jamaican field help. Bottom.

Opening of the bunk room and the kitchen is the dining room, equipped with tables and benches, and it is turned into a television room after working hours. The housing and facilities are designed to keep the workers satisfied, clean and comfortable. A shower and wash room is adjacent to the bunk room, with equipment to facilitate home-laundry.

Class Rooms Have Work on Display AT Elementary School Open House

The regular meeting of P. T. A. was held Monday evening in the Elementary School Auditorium. Following the business meeting, refreshments were served and all parents and friends were invited to visit the classrooms.

Mr. Crawford extended a cordial invitation to parents to visit the classrooms during the school day also.

All rooms throughout the grades told the Thanksgiving story through pictures, projects and evidence of many and varied activities.

The first grade rooms were proudly displaying for the first time the lovely curtains made by each room's mothers. These have appliques of Alice and Jerry and all the animals first graders meet in their reading books. Each child had a booklet of his work on his desk and many Indians were seen as well as turkeys, tents and Pilgrims.

One room featured life-sized Indian figures sitting in the children's chairs.

Of special interest in the second grades was their science unit. They are studying the seasons and are learning about the sun, moon, stars and weather. Cooperation with parents in development of the unit.

The fifth grades are studying the Northeastern United States. In this unit the history of the New England states and the Middle Atlantic states, as well as the various industries were emphasized through use of pictures and projects which were an outgrowth of various activities in this unit. The study of sentence building and paragraphing was evidenced in their original stories with individual illustrations.

All sections of sixth grade are deep in fractions, addition, subtraction and multiplication. Their next step is division. Because different textbooks are used in some areas, the Social Studies classes vary. One section is studying Germany, the others Greece and India.

"Fit For Fashion" Topic Of HD Club

Miss Miriam LoPinto and Mrs. Bergstrand, assistant Home Demonstration agents, presented a program on "Fit For Fashion" at Friday's meeting of Osceola's Home Demonstration Club. They used a filmstrip showing how to adjust a pattern and garment for perfect fit. Mrs. F. C. Fessenden modeled the dress she had made in the sewing course she has been attending in West Palm this fall. She also showed how the basic pattern was made.

Mrs. E. R. Kay showed the group some of her lovely crocheted work.

Mrs. Ruth Irvin of Osceola School met with the group to discuss plans for the School Night. Members of the club will meet with representatives from the school and nursery Wednesday afternoon, November 9th, to work out the details.

Women present included: Mrs. E. R. Kay, Mrs. J. K. Forcum, Mrs. Lula Atkinson, Mrs. Jessie Fessenden, Mrs. Julian Griggs, Miss LoPinto, and Mrs. Bergstrand.

School Benefit Night

Money for Osceola School is the goal of a School Benefit Night, Monday, Dec. 5th, at the Recreation Hall and Nursery. This effort is sponsored by the Home Demonstration Club, the Nursery and the School.

Mr. Dale Hillier is setting up a series of boxing matches among the boys; the applied quilt with the Women's Club has made will be auctioned as well as a number of other items; Occasional parents are encouraged to contribute cakes for a cake-walk.

The evening promises to be a lot of fun. Money raised during the evening will go toward the purchase of a new projector for Osceola School. The projector they now have is getting old and should be traded in by next year. We hope to get a nice start on this project, Dec. 5th.

Parents Entertained

Forty-one members of Osceola's Church Youth Fellowship, parents, and members of Osceola Nursery staff enjoyed a banquet and evening's entertainment together Tuesday night. Glenda Mann, Ruth and Carolyn Parsons sang, Jerry Parsons gave an archery demonstration, and David Miller and Dallas Lehman presented skit. The group then participated in dancing and games.

Adults present included: Mrs. Manuel Salvador, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mann, Mrs. Betty Hughes, and Alma Lindsey.

East Lake Hawks

Win Over Arcadia

The East Lake Hawks defeated Arcadia 25-18 in their homecoming game Saturday night. The Tigers led at the end of the first quarter 12-0. They still kept the lead at the half time 18-6. The Hawks came back strong in the second half and scored three times.

Alvin Laws, the fleet foot fullback, scored twice in the third quarter on runs of 65-70 yards. Johnny Reid scored on a 45 yard dash in the last period. Early in the second period Philip Abrams intercepted a Tiger pass and ran 65 yards to score. The Hawks will journey to Stuart Friday night.

Bobcat's Hopes

Championship hungry Lake Shore fought an inspired Riviera team Friday night and was defeated by a score of 25-6.

The Vikings created a siege of jitters and threw up such a commanding defense that they almost turned the game into a field night.

Today the Bobcats have only a 5-3 record, but few observers thought it would be that good. The Bobcats raised a few eyebrows right off the start with a 26-6 victory over Fort Myers.

The Bobcats played good ball all season and now have a good chance of finishing in the top half of the Southeast Conference.

Hard Playing Rams Lose to Riviera; Face Pahokee "Blue Devils" Wed.

Bill Young Trophy

At Stake

The Belle Glade Golden Rams will play the Pahokee Blue Devils next Wednesday night, Thanksgiving eve at Pahokee in the two teams annual Thanksgiving classic.

The Rams will be out to keep possession of the Bill Young Memorial Trophy which they won last year from the Blue Devils by a score of 23-21. Since it was initiated in 1943, the Rams won it eight times and the Blue Devils nine, each keeping the trophy once in a tie game.

A record has been chalked up for the Rams this year of three wins and two losses. The record book away from the teams meet, so come on you Belle Glade fans and let's cheer our team to victory.

Please ... No Rain

It's Dear Season!

The Everglades Conservation Area No. 2 and No. 3 will be open for deer hunting this season as scheduled, unless there is a heavy rainfall between now and the opening date of hunting season, which is November 19th, according to Louis F. Gaines, Regional Manager Everglades Region, Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The Commission had considered closing these areas to deer hunting, due to the high water conditions, however the waters are receding and the Commission will hold it's scheduled hunting season in these areas.

Rams Capitalize On Fumble For Score

Belle Glade Golden Rams lost a hard fought game last week to Riviera Beach by a score of 18-6. The Rams hard playing and hard tackling caused the ball carrier to fumble five times, and the Rams fumble four times. Up to their old tricks again, Belle Glade picked up their 10th fumble of the football season and ran it for a touchdown. The Rams lost the ball on a fumble at the 10 yd. line of Riviera Beach and on the Hornets first play a fumble picked up by Tim Bass went for the Rams' only score.
